Roni: Hello, where are the fruit?

Seller: There, to the right.

Roni: Hello, are you the manager?
Manager: Yes, I am the manager.
Roni: Where is the pineapple?
Manager: The pineapple is there.

Roni: Wow, the pineapple is big. Is the pineapple fresh?

Manager: Of course.
Roni: How much is it?
Manager: 40 shekels.

Roni: Wow, that's expensive!

Manager: Yes, the pineapple is not cheap.

Roni: Pineapple in Israel is expensive! In America, pineapple is cheap. And how much is that?

Manager: Dates, and these are figs, and this is sabres (prickly pears).

Roni: Wow, these are sabres! Is it good? How much is it?

Manager: The sabres is 20 shekels.

Roni: Okay, everything is pretty and fresh. I want pineapple and figs and dates and sabres.

Manager: Here.

At Roni & Rina's house.

Rina: Wow, Roni, what is there here? (What do you have here?)

Roni: There are bananas, apples, grape fruit, nectarine, guava, kiwi, there is sabres, there is pineapple, there are figs.

Rina: How nice! It's expensive!

Roni: Yes, these are very expensive fruit.

Rina: How much?

Roni: Very expensive, 182 shekels, expensive – but delicious.

Dor: Dana, what's up?

Dana: I'm tired... Very tired... I've been studying all night.

Dor: Maybe you need to drink strong coffee?

Dana: Yes! Yes! I really do need coffee! Where is there yummy coffee here?

Dor: Here nearby, at Aroma. Let's go.

Dana: Okay, let's go.

At Aroma Café.

Dana: Hello! I need a big cold coffee with low fat milk. A strong coffee, please!

Bar tender: Absolutely, a big cold coffee, strong, with low fat milk. Anything else?

Dana: Yes, I want something sweet.

Bar tender: Excellent. For sitting or to go?

Dana: For sitting.

Dor: To go! You need to study, Dana.

Dana: Okay, fine. To go.

Bar tender: To go, okay. That's 28 shekels.

Dana: Here you go.

Dana Pays.

Bar tender: Thanks, and what (can I get) for you?

Dor: I don't know if I want to drink chocolate milk or coffee...

Bar tender: How about ice coffee with ice cream? (You get) coffee and (something) sweet.

Dor: Excellent!

Nofar: It's impossible, Dad. Don't you remember? I'm a vegetarian.

Motti: Oh, sorry! I always forget. So maybe we can go to an Italian restaurant and eat pizza?

Alon: No, Dad, I can't eat dairy food. I'm allergic to lactose.

Shoshana: And I'm allergic to gluten, Motti. Don't you remember?

Motti: Right, right... so maybe we can eat shakshuka?

Nofar: Shakshuka??

Motti: Yes, what's the problem? Vegetarians eat shakshuka, no?

Nofar: Yes, but there are eggs in shakshuka. I really don't like eggs, ew...

Motti: You're a vegetarian, you're allergic to lactose, and you're allergic to gluten. What a family I have...

Shoshana: I have an idea! We can go to an Eastern restaurant! There is meat for Dad, hummus and falafel for Alon, and salads for Nofar!

Dialogue 13 – At the Soup Place

Waitress: Hello! Which soup do you want?

Yonatan: What is there?

Waitress: Vegetable soup, tomato soup with rice, onion soup, creamy mushroom soup with cream, orange soup. There are many kinds of soup (lit. soups), it's a soup place!

Yonatan: Wow, how many kinds of soup! I want creamy mushroom soup.

Dina: And I want... vegetable soup.

Yonatan: No problem. Do you want bread with the soup?

Dina: Sure! I always eat bread with the soup.

Yonatan: Is there bread without gluten? Watiress: No... there is whole wheat bread.

Yonatan: Oh, so I don't want bread, because I don't eat gluten.

Waitress: Here's the soup. Dina: Great, thank you.

Yonatan: But with what do we eat the soup? Where are the spoons? Waitress, waitress!

Waitress: Yes, what's happened? Yonatan: Where are our spoons?

Waitress: Oh, sorry, I'm new. Here are the spoons.

Dina: On no, Yonatan, I have a teaspoon and not a tablespoon... You know what, it's okay. This way I eat the soup slowly.

Yonatan: No way!! A teaspoon is for ice cream! You need a tablespoon.

Waitress, waitress, is there another spoon please?

Waitress: Oh, sorry. Yonatan: It's okay.

Dina: First day at work...

Dialogue 14 – At the Restaurant

Moshe: Hey, Dana, what's up?

Dana: Moshe! How are you doing?

Moshe: All right...

Dana: How are you?

Moshe: Everything is good. Dana, what should I (lit. what is worthwhile to) order here?

Dana: Everything is really good here. The hummus, the falafel, the matbucha...

Moshe: Matbucha? But matbucha is spicy, no?

Dana: Yes. Very spicy.

Moshe: Oh, no! The waitress comes.

Waitress: Hello. Do you want to order?

Dana: Yes. We'd like to order falafel, hummus, French fries (known as "chips" in Hebrew), pickles, tehina and a little matbucha.

The waitress puts the food on the table.

Waitress: Here you go – falafel, matbucha, pickles, pita bread, hummus... and tehina.

Dana: Where are the French fries? Waitress: Chips... here are the chips. Moshe: Where are the French fries?

Waitress: Oh... American chips? Here, French fries. Would you like to drink something?

Moshe: For me - a glass of Coke with ice, please.

Dana: Yes, for me too.

Moshe: Excuse me, may I have a fork please?

Waitress: A fork?

Moshe: Yes, thank you. I need a knife as well, please.

Dana: But why? Why do you need a knife?

Moshe: For the pita bread. It's too big!

Dana: Who eats pita bread with a knife?!

Moshe: Excuse me, excuse me! A plate, too.

Dana: What are you doing?!

Moshe: I can't eat without a plate, a knife and a fork.

Dana: Why not? You have a pita! You can eat everything in the pita!

Moshe: So that's how you eat? Everything is in the pita bread?

Dana: Yes, excellent. Now you're a real Israeli.

Waitress: Here's the Coke, a glass and ice.

Moshe & Dana: Thank you.

Unit 4: Test – Food Vocabulary

Translate the dialogue into Hebrew

Shalom, my name is Alon. I like food very much.

For breakfast I eat big vegetable salad, eggs and bread.

I never eat cheese, because I am allergic to milk.

I am not a vegetarian and not a vegan. I like very much to eat meat.

My friend Noga is vegetarian.

I always want to go to a meat restaurant and she always wants to go to a dairy restaurant.

In the evening I like to drink something hot – tea or coffee.

Sometimes I also like to drink orange juice with Noga.
